From War Zones

The Balkan entente—Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey—which carries the key to the backdoor of the European war, last night wound up at Belgrade a three-day conference which on the whole must give the Anglo-French brotherhood considerable satisfaction.

True, the secretive representatives of this powerful quartet departed under shelter of a smoke-screen which concealed most of the things we would like to know. Instead of revealing private discussions which (we believe) might have indicated the trend of the war, the conferees were rigidly neutral and most cautious in their public statements.

Still the atmosphere on the whole would seem to me to have been rather favorable to the allies. This takes into account the understanding that unhappy Rumania, for whose oil and other resources the belligerents are bidding and threatening, will continue to maintain an open-door policy towards Germany at this juncture.

The substance of the announcement made at the conclusion of the conference was that the members of the entente intend to stick to a policy of armed neutrality which will insure their independence and territorial integrity. They mean to safeguard their neutrality by developing commercial and economic cooperation which will render them less dependent upon either of the belligerents.

Now that type of neutrality happens to suit the purposes of the allies better than it does Herr Hitler, although England and France undoubtedly could figure out a scheme which they would like more.

The point is that Hitler has been placing great dependence on the rich resources of the Balkans to help him escape the allied blockade which already has shut off all his sea-borne supplies. Politico-economic domination of this area is necessary to ensure control of

Firebug at Work Again Sunday in Lake County Seat

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—City and county authorities pressed their search today for a pyromaniac whom Fire Chief Adolph Francke blames for 14 fires in the city since September 22.

The latest blaze came early yesterday morning when fire damaged the Temple Agudas Achem synagogue. Francke, who estimated damage at $500, said the fire was started from wads of paper stuffed in cracks on the outside of the building.

The firebug, according to evidence pieced together by Francke and Chief of Police William Baylock, employs these methods: He strikes only on Thursdays and Sundays; he starts fires with rolls of paper, but apparently doesn't use kerosene; he apparently is an amateur and uses an automobile.

He set four fires early one Sunday morning within two hours. Church members, armed with cudgels, have undertaken an almost nightly patrol of church property and in some instances citizens are guarding their homes.

However, despite their vigilance, fire caused an estimated $20,000 damage at the First Congregational church on November 19, and a week later the Trinity Lutheran church was damaged slightly.

LABOR LEADERS FIND LAST SEVEN YEARS FRUITLESS

Nine Sign Statement of Criticism of Policies of Government

Miami, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Sharp criticism of the national government's industrial and social economy policies of the past seven years was contained today in a statement issued by a group of American Federation of Labor leaders.

In a report entitled "A call for united action," the group declared "the hour has come for Americans to recognize the dangers that confront them, and to join in a united effort to halt the drift toward national insolvency, industrial collapse and the extinction of opportunity for the Americans of tomorrow."

The statement bore the names of William L. Hutchison and Matthew Woll, first and third vice presidents, respectively, of the American Federation of Labor, and seven other labor leaders.

Many of them are here attending a mid-winter conference of the federation's executive council, to whose attention the report was directed.

Describing many of the government's policies as "experiments," the statement declared that "innovation after innovation have followed upon each other so fast and furiously that only a trained few could keep abreast of changes."

Airplane Honeymoon to Mardi Gras Ends in Death for Newlyweds and Three Others

Hammond, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—An airplane honeymoon trip ended in death last night for a newly-married couple and three other persons flying from Denver to New Orleans for the gay Mardi Gras celebration.

Their bodies, burned and mangled, lay in a funeral home here today.

The five-passenger cabin biplane crashed in wooded, swampy country in a thick fog six miles east of here after the pilot had tried desperately to "talk" his way into the New Orleans airport, 50 airplane miles away.

Don T. Craig, 30, of Denver, was the pilot. The passengers, prominent residents of Colorado, were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zimmermanhacker, bride and groom of a

Parker's Chances of Getting Pardon Cheated by Death

Lewistown, Pa., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The presidential pardon sought for Ellis Parker, Sr., famed small-town detective who went to prison in a sequel to the Lindbergh baby kidnapping case, will be a post-humous one if granted.

Death cheated the 68-year-old former Mt. Holly, N. J., sleuth yesterday of a chance for freedom from the northeastern federal penitentiary here, where he was serving a six-year sentence on conspiracy charges resulting from his activities in the Lindbergh investigation.

But while his family arranged funeral services, his attorney, Harry Green, announced he would press for a posthumous pardon "for the purpose of vindicating the old man's name." Green added that he would seek similar clemency for Parker's son, Ellis, Jr., who is serving a three-year sentence on the same charge.

Eight thousand Burlington county, N. J., residents recently signed a petition for a pardon and U. S. Attorney John J. Quinn, who prosecuted Parker and his son, said he had planned to sign recommendations for a pardon and parole for the elder Parker today.

Parker, convicted with his son in 1937 of conspiring to kidnap Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton, N. J., lawyer, and forcing him by torture to confess falsely the Lindbergh kidnapping, died in the penitentiary hospital at 3:30 a. m. of an organic cerebral condition. His son was at his bedside.

Iowa Woman Suffers Broken Leg in Crash West of Dixon Sunday

Mrs. Robert A. Dahl, wife of Rev. Dahl, pastor of the Methodist church at Harcourt, Iowa, sustained a fracture of the right leg above the ankle in an automobile accident on Lord's hill, west of Dixon on the Lincoln highway, about 7:30 Sunday morning. Rev. Dahl escaped with only minor bruises, and his wife was removed to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, where her injury was dressed and Sunday afternoon, she was removed to a Joliet hospital in an ambulance.

Rev. and Mrs. Dahl were enroute to Donovan, Ill., to the bedside of the pastor's father, and on Lord's hill, he turned out to pass a truck and collided with a car driven by Rex Burgess of this city. The Dahl car skidded on the slippery paving and crashed into a ditch. Both cars were considerably damaged, and State Highway Officer Edward Mahan, who was called to the scene, had the damaged cars hauled to local garages. Mr. Burgess escaped uninjured.

Mrs. Elizabeth Commerer Bennett, former resident of Dixon, passed away yesterday at 1:30 at the City hospital in Elgin, following an illness with pneumonia for the past several weeks. She will be remembered in Dixon as Mrs. Elizabeth Commerer, widow of the late John Commerer of Palmyra.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Rice, 465 Park street in Elgin and burial will be at the Sugar Grove cemetery at Palmyra.

DEMOCRATS MAY TAKE CONVENTION TO PHILADELPHIA

National Committee in Session Today Will Not Set Date

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Chairman James A. Farley told the Democratic national committee today that the party's biggest job was to win over some 10,000,000 independent voters "who will cast their ballots for the best candidates and the best program that is offered."

The committee was gathered for an all-day session at the Willard hotel, to pick a convention city.

Farley, predicting "a very active pre-convention campaign," noted that there were many who would like to have the Democratic presidential nomination. He mentioned by name, however, only Vice President Garner.

Garner's name came up in the chairman's expression of thanks for the assistance given him by members of the committee, "including sturdy, stalwart, John Nance Garner."

Garner himself had some kind words for Farley when he introduced him, as "one of the most efficient, kindest and most agreeable fellows to work with I know."

As Farley spoke, there were growing indications that Philadelphia might obtain the 1940 convention. The Democrats met there in 1936, and a Philadelphia delegation was prepared to offer a certified check for $125,000 to obtain this year's meeting. It also was learned that the delegation held another certified check of an undisclosed amount which was to be offered in event some other city topped the $125,000 bid.

Although San Francisco representatives indicated they would have as much as $255,000 available, they did not claim to have the sum in ready cash.

Earlier in the all-day session, the committee cheered the news that a $250,000 party deficit had been more than wiped out by over $400,000 in receipts from the recent Jackson Day dinners.

Farley lent weight to talk that the committee would take no action on a convention date at today's meeting, but would turn the job over to a sub-committee. This sub-committee could act after the Republican national committee had selected a date in a meeting here February 16.

"Why not wait and see what the Republicans have to offer?" Farley remarked.

He indicated that if the Republicans meet in late June or early July, the Democratic convention might be held immediately afterward.

"I confess that I have no great apprehension as to the result of the forthcoming election," said the man who steered Franklin D. Roosevelt to easy victories in 1932 and 1936.

"Until or unless the Republicans are able to formulate a better program to take the place of our program, I do not think there is

Mississippi's Ice Jam Unlooses Grip on Traffic Today

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Mississippi river's worst ice jam this century unloosed its frigid grasp on steamer traffic today and freight-laden boats moved for the first time in 16 days.

Vessels traveled cautiously, warily dodging floes whose white caps bobbed in the swift current. A ribbon of jagged ice, deposited as the broken jam moved southward yesterday, lined both shores from St. Louis, Mo., to Friar Point, Miss.

Crushed wharves and punctured boats were left by the ice movement.

The channel was free of gorges south of Memphis, but boat captains still waited at Memphis for ice to move free of the channel at Gayoso Bend near Caruthersville, Mo., Drivers' Landing, Ark., and Sugar Loaf, Ark. When these points open up, steamers can travel as far north as St. Louis.

The steel-hulled Illinois, its 10 barges safely tied together, awaited above Gayoso Bend. The barge's $1,000,000 cargo of farm implements and steel products was tossed end-around for five miles Friday night when the Gayoso gorge first broke. The boat's crew of 33 members had been ice-bound 15 days.

The steamer Hoover waited below Gayoso Bend to aid the Illinois when the channel clears. Farther south, the steamer Indiana waited with a $2,500,000 cargo billed for Cincinnati.

RADIO PRIEST'S CANCELLATION OF SPEECH MYSTERY

No Explanation of Why Father Coughlin Cut Sunday Broadcast

Detroit, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The unexplained failure of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin to deliver his usual Sunday broadcast provided a mystery today for church and radio officials as well as for his followers.

Father Coughlin himself could not be reached for an explanation, and associates at his Shrine of the Little Flower in suburban Royal Oak said his whereabouts were unknown.

Three cryptic announcements, interspersed with organ music, occupied the hour usually devoted to Father Coughlin's Sunday address over his own network of stations. Early listeners were advised to "telephone some friend to join this audience."

The announcer, stating he was unauthorized to give any explanation, first told hearers Father Coughlin would not speak. Later he returned to the microphone to say:

"Pay no heed to idle rumors which will be circulated this week. Be assured Father Coughlin knows what he is doing. x x x Probably events transpiring this week will enlighten you."

Management Surprised
The management of the network's outlet station (WJR-Detroit) said Father Coughlin had been expected to talk, and expressed surprise that he did not do so. The priest delivers his speeches from his church.

The Rev. Edward J. Hickey, chancellor of the archdiocese of Detroit, said he could offer no explanation. Archbishop Edward Mooney was out of the city.

Since the arrest of 17 members of the "Christian Front" in New York three weeks ago, charged with conspiring to overthrow the government, Father Coughlin's name has often come into discussion. He has advocated "a Christian front" to fight communism and nazism, but disclaimed any connection in the New York instance, though calling himself a "friend of the accused."

A week ago O. John Rogge, assistant U. S. attorney general, said that "in due course" accusations made against Father Coughlin by the Jewish Peoples Committee would be investigated.

Child Bride from Hills Determined to Keep Husband

Vincennes, Ind., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A child bride from the southern Indiana hills, jailed after only two weeks of married life, said today she loved her husband and, law or no law, was determined to stay with him and make him a good wife.

Big, blonde Dorothy Jean Foster Harrell and black-haired James Harrell, 21-year-old Bicknell WPA worker, were married here Jan. 21. The county clerk charged that Harrell, who also is in jail, and the girl lied about the latter's age in getting their license. The clerk said the girl was only 13, although her age was given as 18.

Dorothy, who left the seventh grade and her father's farm to become a housewife, talked to Sheriff Oscar Westfall about her troubles last night—and put down her foot.

"I won't go back to Petersburg and live with my father," she declared. "I won't go back to school. I just want to live with my husband. He's better to me than anybody else and I don't see why they want to take him away from me."

The reason was contained in an affidavit sworn out by County Clerk Paul Enmeier. It charged Dorothy, her husband and her mother, Mrs. Leo Halmke of Bicknell, with giving false information in getting a marriage license.

The clerk said they told him Dorothy was 18. Her father, Homer Foster, and records of the court that divorced her parents 10 years ago both say she is five years younger than that. Girls may not marry in this state until they are 16.

The sheriff went to Mrs. Halmke's house Friday and took all three to jail. Later the older woman was freed so she might care for a seven-month-old baby, her twelfth child.

Arraignments in the case were scheduled today.

Wars In Brief

London, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The British minesweeper Sphinx, badly damaged by German air raiders Saturday, sank today as she was being towed toward port in heavy weather. Four officers and 45 men were missing and believed lost.

One officer and four men were known dead additionally. Forty-four men and two officers were saved.

The tow-line broke and the ship capsized as she entered port.

The Sphinx was one of at least 11 vessels attacked by Nazi raiders Saturday in a damaging sweep along Britain's east coast from Scotland to the Humber estuary.

One other vessel, the 629-ton Norwegian steamer Pembo, was sunk, and several others were damaged badly but were able to make port.

The 875-ton Sphinx was completed December 1938, at a cost of about $500,000. Normally she carried a complement of 80 men, but more were aboard for war duty.

Helsinki, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Finnish forces northeast of Lake Ladoga killed more than 500 Russian soldiers and captured much booty in repulsing three new Russian attacks. The Finnish army declared in today's communique.

Two of the Russian attacks were against island positions; the third was against shore positions on the lake the communique said.

"Our troops captured another enemy stronghold, killing the majority of the defenders," the communique continued. "The enemy dead numbered over 500. Seven tanks, four guns, large quantities of other arms, more than 30 automobiles of various types and other war materials fell into our hands."

The Finns said that Russian attacks also were repulsed at Summa, on the Karelian isthmus in the extreme southeast, and at Markajarvi, in the north near the Arctic Circle.

They said that nine Russian planes were known to have been shot down and that four more probably were downed in the air war.

Samuel Vauclain, Famed Locomotive Builder, is Dead

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Samuel M. Vauclain, who rose from the position of shop apprentice boy to the leadership of the vast Baldwin Locomotive Works, is dead at 83.
Vauclain died of heart disease and other ailments yesterday at his home in suburban Rosemont.
The industrialist's railroad career began with his apprenticeship at the Pennsylvania Railroad's Altoona, Pa., shops at the age of 16. At the age of 26 he joined the Baldwin Company, and became president in 1919.
In addition to his success as a locomotive builder, Vauclain won fame and decorations from allied countries during the World War, when he found a way to mount huge naval guns on railroad cars, turned Baldwin plants at Eddystone, Pa., and Burnham, Pa., into munitions factories that turned out 12,000 rifles and 25,000 shells daily and served on this country's Council of National Defense. After the war he surveyed railroads in soviet Russia and obtained huge contracts for locomotives from South American countries.
He was born in Philadelphia May 18, 1856. The family moved to Altoona, Pa., where he attended public school until he was 16 and was then apprenticed as a mechanic in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad. In five years he was made foreman. Abandoning a dream of a college education he studied mechanical drawing at night.
Became Inspector
Soon he became an inspector at the Baldwin plant and rose rapidly to assume various responsibilities.

supplies—a domination which Hitler had only a few months ago but which has been slipping from his grasp until we see the present independent attitude of the Balkan entente.

There is another aspect of moment. Both the allies and the Germans have been striving for control of the Balkans because of the vast strategic importance of this ancient battle-ground of south-eastern Europe which may easily become the scene of major fighting. Here, too, the Anglo-French pair seem to have played in luck.

It was emphasized in entente conference circles that Turkey, guardian of the Dardanelles Straits—strategically one of the most important spots in the whole world—is the promised ally of England and France if fighting develops in that section. It further was emphasized that Greece, friend of England, was drawing still closer to Turkey.
It should be noted that Turkey, which has assumed the leadership among Iraq, Iran and Afghanistan, also has pushed forward in the councils of the Balkan entente. At this moment Turkey is a prime factor to be reckoned with in trying to forecast the outcome of the European upheaval.

One could almost see the spirit of the late President Kemal Ataturk sitting in at the council table of the entente in Belgrade during the past three days. This man, whom many current historians characterize as the greatest of all the dictators of modern times, left a legacy of friendship for England to his country when he died just over a year ago.

I happened to be in Turkey at that time, and they told me that he swore by England because he felt the British policies were dependable. He laid down a policy of neutrality, and kept a wary eye on Germany, but it was understood that if it came to war, Turkey would go with Britain.

There is yet another factor which would seem at this moment to be in favor of the allies. It is understood that the entente conference looked graciously on Signor Mussolini's intervention in the affairs of the Balkans with the idea of creating a neutral defensive unit and preventing any invasion of either Russia or Germany. Yugoslavia, which apart from Turkey is the key state of the Balkans strategically, apparently has decided to cooperate with Italy at least to some degree. Yugoslavia also is headed towards closer cooperation with Hungary and with Bulgaria, the latter being the only Balkan state not in the entente.

In other words, it would seem that Il Duce is getting ahead with his plan. There are those who think he is friendly at heart towards the Anglo-French allies, and there are those who think he may not be. Whatever may be his feeling, however, it is all to the good from the allied standpoint to have him acting as sentry at the entrance to the Balkan peninsula. Thus, on the whole, it would seem that the allies did fairly well for themselves out of the entente conference.

Locomotive Boiler Explodes; Two Killed

New Lisbon, Wis., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The engineer and head brakeman of a Milwaukee road freight train were killed and the fireman was seriously injured shortly before midnight Sunday when the boiler of the locomotive exploded.

The blast occurred when the train, northbound on the Valley division, was about four miles from Needah.
The dead: Richard Goerick, engineer, of Beloit; Otto Winters, head brakeman, of Merrill.

The fireman, Alvin Janz of Wausau, was taken to a Mauston hospital.

The conductor and another brakeman, riding in the caboose, escaped injury. Winters was riding in the engine cab with Goerick and Janz.

Borah, who was born in Jasper township, seven miles east of Fairfield, was 20 years old when he went west, first to Kansas and later to Idaho.

SWITCHMAN KILLED

East St. Louis, Ill., (AP)—Falling under a moving Alton & Southern train, Walter Pea, 50, a switchman, was injured fatally Sunday night. Railroad officials said he was riding on the tender and apparently slipped as he attempted to descend a ladder.

Horner Campaign Organization to Be in New Hands

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A shakeup in the management of Governor Horner's political campaign organization for the April primary was assured today following the sudden withdrawal of F. Lynden Smith, state director of public works and buildings.
Smith, who directed the Horner forces in downstate counties in the 1936 and 1938 campaigns, announced he was going to Florida on a two months leave of absence "to rest."

Horner made no comment on Smith's decision, and associates said it hadn't been decided who would succeed Smith as manager of the governor's drive for third-term renomination.

Some Horner men said Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, was first in line for appointment as Horner campaign manager but that this depended upon whether or not Hershey is a candidate for state office. The state committee meets Friday to consider state ticket endorsements, with Hershey a possible choice for Lieutenant governor in the April 9 primary.

Decision Not Reached
Making clear he was not resigning his post as public works director, Smith said he was taking the leave of absence for the benefit of his and his wife's health. He wouldn't comment on state-house reports that he had "broken" with Horner over the chief executive's third candidacy, and also had clashed with S. L. Nudelman, state finance director, and others of the governor's advisers.

Should Hershey be endorsed for a place on the Democratic state ticket, the Horner primary campaign would be turned over to a committee of administration officials, it was predicted officially.
Arrangements for the governor's campaign in Cook county likewise have not been announced. Some change there was regarded as likely also, since the governor's Chicago organization leader of recent campaigns, James M. Slattery,

Patrick H. Callahan, Noted Industrialist, Dies Sunday Evening

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Col. Patrick H. Callahan, who as a youth took Billy Sunday's advice and quit professional baseball as a career and later won international and national honors through myriad activities, is dead.

The 73-year-old varnish manufacturing company head and one of the nation's outstanding Catholic laymen, succumbed last night to a heart ailment.

For more than 30 years Callahan had been active in advocating religious tolerance, prohibition and profit-sharing by employees. Through a private news letter he originated to discuss leading questions of the day, he became a friend of many religious, business and political leaders.

In 1922 Callahan became the first American appointee of the late Pope Pius XI as a knight of the Order of St. Gregory the Great. Eleven years later the University of Illinois awarded him the Newman medal, citing his work in stabilization of industry.

While a member of the Chicago White Sox before the turn of the century, Callahan once recalled, a team-mate, Billy Sunday, persuaded him to seek a career in other fields. Sunday later became a famous evangelist.

Colonel Callahan was born and educated in Cleveland, Ohio. Survivors include the widow, two sons and a daughter.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at his home, since has become United States senator and is a likely candidate for renomination.

Robbed!

By the Parasite on the Coal Pile

Are you one of the many people who still believe that a coil in the furnace supplies hot water FREE?

Just as quietly and unnoticed as a thief the furnace-coil steals from your fuel supply. According to scientific tests an average of 20% more fuel is consumed when a coil is used in the furnace. This means the furnace-coil is robbing you of one-fifth of your winter's fuel bill.

Isn't this a high price to pay for an inadequate, part-time supply of hot water. Consider too the frequent replacement of the furnace coil, rusty water, unregulated temperature—sometimes too hot, often lukewarm or cold.

You can have a year 'round constant supply of hot water with an automatic gas water heater without any thought or attention.

Due to our special low gas rate for automatic water heating the cost of this perfect service is actually less, per gallon of hot water, than your present methods of heating water.

Come in today for further information on this low-cost service.

PRESS COMMENT

Of the Sterling-Dixon game of Friday night the rival scribes write: "Sterling didn't hit the jackpot or the loop consistently at Dixon last night, but the boys are reported to have played a better brand of ball than they had exhibited of late. They got into a rut in some of the past games and just could not put on enough pressure last night. This will return after another game or two. The boys have what it takes if they will only put it out. x x x Sterling played good ball at Dixon Friday night but it wasn't good enough to win."

Illinois State Normal Goes After 6th Straight League Win This Week

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Illinois intercollegiate basketball title race will be just a two-team battle—but it's a good one.

Illinois State Normal leads the pack with five league wins and no defeats. Southern Teachers of Carbondale has won three games and lost none—these clubs being the only undefeated quintets in the circuit.

This week Normal goes after a sixth straight league victory at Elmhurst. Southern Teachers faces a difficult schedule, playing Eastern on Friday night and then taking on Northern 24 hours later.

Normal's last conference win was a 43 to 39 victory over Eastern scored Wednesday. Southern's last conference triumph was gained at the expense of Western, 55 to 36.

New Records Put in Books at the Millrose Games

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Dusky, durable Jimmy Herbert had come within three-tenths of a second of his own world's indoor record for the "600" and later had anchored New York University's mile relay team to a new meet record of 3:19.8—but he still had breath enough to praise a courageous fellow competitor in Saturday's Millrose games.

"That Cunningham. Did you see him go? He got beat all right, but if he'd have started that kick of his a half lap sooner, he would have won that race."

"I don't want to take anything away from Fenske, but that Cunningham is still the world's greatest miler."

If Herbert felt that way, he stood alone among the 16,000 in Madison Square Garden who howled themselves hoarse at what must have been the best of all the 33 Millrose games.

For Fenske, the Wisconsin wizard, carefully rating himself while Elaine Rideout of Texas guided the field through a terrifically fast three-quarters, took the lead at the seventh lap, stretched those wiry legs of his and rolled home in 4:07.1—second fastest indoor mile ever run—to beat Cunningham, who was seeking his last Wanamaker Mile trophy.

And that was the evening's high in excitement, taking the play away from four other superb record-shattering performances.

Purdue-Indiana Battle Will Be Big 10 Natural

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(AP)—There's a Big Ten basketball "natural" coming up next Saturday night which should make Western Conference hardwood fans forget all about the past few weeks of inactivity in the season's championship race.

Purdue's Boilermakers, leading the title scramble with four victories and no defeats, travel to Bloomington to tackle Indiana's steaming Hoosiers, now deadlocked with Michigan for second place with three victories and one setback each.

The games staged by these old rivals are perennial thrillers and Saturday night's battle, one of a full five-game Big Ten program should carry on the tradition. Purdue has trimmed Northwestern, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Minnesota—all by comfortable margins. Indiana has defeated Illinois, Iowa, lost to Minnesota and then downed Wisconsin.

Indiana at Peak of Game

That Indiana is at the peak of its game was indicated by its 51 to 39 route Saturday night of De Pauw university, which previously had lost only one game. Other Saturday night battles saw Ohio State down Butler 51 to 45; Notre Dame trim Illinois 58 to 40; Chicago snap a losing streak by defeating Loyola of Chicago 33 to 28 and Michigan State defeat Wisconsin 48 to 41.

Saturday night's complete program, which steams up the championship fight after the semester examination doldrums: Purdue at Indiana; Michigan at Northwestern; Wisconsin at Iowa; Ohio State at Chicago and Minnesota at Illinois.

Tonight's court card will send three Big Ten quintets into action against non-conference opposition. Butler plays Wisconsin at Madison; Ohio State entertains the Y. M. C. A. club from Mexico City and Iowa plays host to De Pauw.

REMEMBERS A FRIEND

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—(AP)—John Petro, local restaurateur who befriended Senator A. B. Chandler while the latter was in college, is the proudest man in Mt. Sterling.

One of the last official acts of Chandler after he resigned the governorship of Kentucky to become U. S. Senator was to appoint Petro a brigadier-general on the governor's staff.

Back in 1914, while Petro, a native of Greece, had a restaurant in Lexington, Chandler entered the University of Kentucky without much money. Petro gave the youth plenty to eat "because I like him and thought he was a nice fellow."

The commission of brigadier-general was the only one of its kind conferred by Chandler while he was governor.

GAMES TOMORROW

Kirkland at Ashton.

Monroe Center at Forreston.

Franklin Grove at Stillman Valley.

Malden at Lee Center.

Polo at Oregon.

Rock Falls at Sterling.

West Brooklyn at Creston.

Leaf River at Byron.

while the Stillman Valley club, with whom the Monroe Center squad shares the lead draws a tougher assignment in entertaining the Franklin Groves who won the championship in the recent conference tournament.

In another battle which figures in the standings of the "highway conference," the Leaf River team will play at Byron in a clash between two "mid-stream" squads.

The only game scheduled for the Rock River circuit is Polo's engagement at Oregon against the lead-sharing Hawks. It's a battle between the high and the low of the standings and should not injure any plans which the Hawks may have of emerging as the champions of the loop.

Rock Falls and Sterling will clash in the Sterling Coliseum in a game which shouldn't find the Brandeau men too hard pressed to rout their inter-city rivals.

The up-and-coming teams of West Brooklyn and Lee Center have drawn assignments which should not give them too much trouble. The Brooklynites go to Creston and Lee Center entertains Malden.

The league-leading Monroe Center team will go to Forreston to clash with a team which holds a .100 percentage in the circuit.

The Route 72 conference will dominate the action in the neighborhood tomorrow night in the regular Tuesday sessions; however, a few other important games have been tossed in for good measure.

In the Route 72 race Kirkland will play at Ashton where the hosts receive the visitors in the hope of breaking out of the gloom of the lower confines of the league. Kirkland has won a single conference game and lost four while the Aces have won two and dropped five.

Margaret Dacken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dacken of Polo, became the bride of Forest Kinsey at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Gerdes in Haldane at 3:30 P. M. Friday, Feb. 2. Rev. Gerdes performed the ceremony. Mr. Kinsey, of Mt. Morris, is the son of Charles Kinsey of Rock Island.

Miss Yaunita Dacken came from Chicago to be at her sister's wedding and to attend her as bridesmaid. Mrs. Kinsey and her sister chose pale blue gowns as their wedding attire. Walter Heckman of Polo was the bridegroom's attendant.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White of Polo are announcing the marriage of their only daughter, Eileen to Minert A. DeWall of Forreston. The ceremony was read Wednesday, Jan. 31 at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of the German Reformed church. Rev. H. H. Huene-mann, pastor, read the ceremony.

Mrs. DeWall chose for her wedding a gown of powder blue alpaca with spring hat and black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of red roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Onne DeWall, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a slate blue crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage similar to the bride's. Onne DeWall was his brother's best man.

After the ceremony an informal reception for the immediate family was held at the home of the bride's parents. For her wedding trip the new Mrs. DeWall chose a traveling dress of blue and beige with harmonizing accessories.

For the past six years the bridegroom has been in the employment of his brother at a local feed mill. Mr. and Mrs. DeWall will reside on a farm near Forreston after their return from a trip in the south.

CHANGING THEM

Kansas City — (AP) — Here are several pieces of currency the FBI says you shouldn't accept without checking the FBI:

Bills numbered b-00000671a; b-0000402a; a-0001768-a and a-00032784-a.

The first is a $10,000 bill; the second is the same but the other two are only for $1,000.

The United States leads the world in homicides, Finland is second.

Hook Refuses to Concede Letters About Dies Fake

Washington, Feb. 5 — (AP) —

Rep. Hook (D-Mich) refused today to "concede anything" as to the invalidity of letters purporting to link Chairman Dies (D-Tex) of the house committee on un-American activities to William Dudley Pelley, Silver Shirt leader.

Hook told a house rules subcommittee that even if the documents were forged, their inclusion in the Congressional Record did not violate the house rules.

He was the first witness before the subcommittee, considering a resolution by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) to expunge the material from the record.

Hoffman, speaking in behalf of his resolution, told the committee that, even assuming the documents were genuine, Hook's remarks were improper because they reflected on a member — Dies—who was not on the house floor at the time and was confined to his home by illness.

Hoffman said the remarks connected Dies with trickery and with "subverting" the power given him by the house when it authorized the investigation.

He contended too, that remarks published in the Congressional Record were given "undue weight" frequently by the thousands of persons throughout the country who read them "and so countered any good that the Dies committee may have done."

"Cause Celebre"

In the background of the proceedings was a stag dinner which, the forum for discussion of the Dies committee, was taking rank as a "cause celebre" reminiscent of the "Red" dinner made famous by Dr. William Wirt in 1934.

Hook said today he thought the date of the dinner was January 16.

"You discussed ways and means of stopping this resolution (for continuance of the Dies committee)" Rep. Cox (D-Ga) asked.

"Yes," Hook replied.

"Did you make this speech for the purpose of stopping this committee?" Cox asked, referring to Hook's remarks at the time he inserted the letters in the record.

"I certainly did," Hook answered.

"Do you think a member should use forged documents?" Rep. Dempsey (D-NM) started to ask.

Hook interrupted to retort, "Well, it has not been proved yet that those documents are forged."

"Will you tell this committee that those documents are genuine?" Cox asked.

Illinois Clings to Its Temporary Haven at Ridgely

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5 — (AP) —

The Illinois Supreme Court will begin its February term tomorrow.

Among cases on which decisions may be announced are the long-fought Shanahan will contest, a validity test of the Chicago $60,000,000 superhighway program and a rehearing of the contention that Chicago gas rates should be raised $3,000,000 a year.

Mary and Margaret Flynn, cousins of the late David E. Shanahan, appealed from a ruling by the Cook county Circuit court that the marriage of Shanahan, former speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, to his secretary, Miss Helen Troesch, was legal.

The lower court ruled the sisters had no interest in the late speaker's $850,000 estate.

The Supreme court has also been asked to rule on the validity of a note issued under the Chicago superhighway program to establish the legality of bonds to be sold to finance the large improvement project.

The People's Gas Light & Coke company, which lost an appeal to the high court recently for support of its action in raising gas rates to Chicago consumers, won the rate case rehearing. The commerce commission has opposed the rate boost.

The court may rule also on the appeal of two Chicago men — Orville Watson and Edward Riley — sentenced to death for slaying a tavern customer during a robbery.

Another review of its earlier action by the high court concerns its December ruling that the governor of Illinois has ten days to consider legislation, no matter when it is presented to him. This decision sustained Governor Horner's action in vetoing several measures passed by the 61st General Assembly more than ten days after the body had adjourned.
